Paying Fees

All students paying their own fees will be expected to pay in full if the course is 10 weeks or less otherwise they will be required to make an £100 contribution to the enrolment fee at the time they enrol, or the full balance if this is less than £100. Please note that if no fees are payable on your course, you will not be expected to make a payment at enrolment.

You can:

- Pay total fee at enrolment - you can pay by credit/debit card, cheque or cash
- Make initial payment as above, and then pay balance within two weeks
- Make initial payment as above, and then pay remaining balance by direct debit instalments*. (Failure to meet a direct debit instalment will result in the full balance of fees becoming due immediately).

Students whose fees are sponsored by employers, Student Loans Company, agents, local authorities or other organisations must provide written evidence of this at enrolment. The written evidence (e.g. letter) must contain contact details of who will pay the fees, and the address to which the invoice will be sent. In the absence of this evidence, the enrolling student will be liable for fees. When an employer or other agency agrees to pay these fees, they become liable for them in full. *Visit wmc.ac.uk/student-support for details of instalments.

Non-Payments of fees:

Once your enrolment has been processed you are liable for any fees and payment will be expected. In the event that the college cancels your course, any monies paid will be refunded.

The following sanctions may be applied to students who do not pay their fees:

- Restricted access to college facilities e.g. college IT network or Learning Resource Centres
- Future enrolment on Wirral Met College courses refused
- Legal action to recover outstanding debt
- Withdrawal from the course
- Refused entry to exams

Once outstanding debts have been referred to our debt collection agency, an administration charge of 16% is applied and any right of appeal against the debt is forfeited.

Examination and registration fees:

If you do not attend an examination for which the college has paid examination/registration fees on your behalf, the college may invoice you for the cost of the examination.

Additional costs:

It may be necessary for you to pay for other costs e.g. overalls, protective clothing, specialist equipment or residential fees.

Our refund policy is as follows:

Fees are payable in full for any college term where the student has attended one or more sessions.

Refund requests supported by a medical certificate will be treated on a case by case basis and should be sent to:
