Wirral Met College is committed to protecting your personal information and being clear about what information we collect from you and how we use it. This privacy statement outlines how we process personal information in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation.

1. Notice about how we use your personal information

We are the data controller of personal information about you.

We are: Wirral Metropolitan College.

Our address is: Conway Park Campus, Europa Boulevard, Birkenhead CH41 4NT.

Our Data Protection Officer is Paul Groome – Assistant Principal, MIS.

If you have any questions about this policy or the ways in which we use your personal information, please contact our Data Protection Officer at Conway Park Campus, Europa Boulevard, Birkenhead CH41 4NT.

This privacy notice has been prepared in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (“GDPR”) 2018 and the Data Protection Act 1998.

2. The information that you give us

As part of your admission to the College we may collect your personal details as set out on your enrolment form and any additional form(s) that you provide either at enrolment or during the induction process.

During your studies, you may also provide additional personal details for the performance of your course, for example, reasons for absence/lateness. The College may also generate information with your assistance for the purposes of your student record, for example your results on assignments.

3. The uses made of your personal information

Your studies may have been in full or in part funded by government funding and/or College reserves. Such provision being for the purposes of improving the local community and economy. We will use your information to manage and administer your education in line with accepted quality standards and in line with government policies. This will include actions during your education at the College (for example to register you for examinations and mark and administer work to obtain those qualifications) and a review of the impact of your education to your future progression into employment or higher/other levels of study. As a result, the College may need to contact you from time to time to determine the impact of your studies and any future education you may require.

The College may also consider wider implications of provision offered such as its impact upon sectors of society with protected characteristics such as race, gender or ethnicity. Where the College uses your data in such context it will be for the purpose of determining the College’s effectiveness of delivery to those categories of learners.

4. The legal basis on which we collect and use your personal information.

Your studies may have been in full or in part funded by government funding and/or College reserves for the purposes of improving the local community and economy. As such, your information is collected and processed for the purposes of:

- 1) Fulfilment of the College's contractual relationship with you regarding your studies.

This will include:

- a. Obtaining funding for your studies from other bodies and required the provision of such information as reasonably requested to obtain that funding.
- b. Payment of any fees or other balances by you or the payment of bursaries to you which may require the collection of banking details.
- c. Enabling the college to monitor your progress in your studies and meet your individual needs.

As such, the primary reason for collecting your personal data is contractual.

- 2) As noted, the purpose of your education with the College is to improve the local community and economy. The College may collect your information as part of its legitimate interest to achieve that aim, for example to determine the impact of your studies on employment prospects. It may be required to review the impact of your studies to fulfil the College's expectations with respect to reviewing the quality of its delivery. It may therefore be necessary to contact you from time to time following your studies to determine your career progression and/or other education that may be beneficial to your career/life prospects.
- 3) Where the information collected is special category personal information such as information relating to nationality, health, disability etc, the reason for collecting such information is either:
 - a. To fulfil the contractual requirement with funding bodies that have provided in full or in part contributions towards the cost of your studies. Such collection therefore being a contractual requirement;
 - b. To further the College's legitimate interest to consider the impact of its provision on such category of students and to effectively monitor the quality of its provision to those students.
 - c. To enable the College to meet requirements of Government guidance or legislation (for example to enable the College to make reasonable adjustments under the Equality Act 2010).
- 4) As part of your studies with the College you are required to abide by the College's student disciplinary policy. This includes behaviour that may be subject to CCTV recording and accessing the College's ICT network and library functions. You acknowledge that these policies and activities form part of the delivery of studies to you and the contract of enrolment with the College. The College therefore maintains such information on ICT use and CCTV images as part of its contractual delivery between you and the College as well as in the College's legitimate interest to conduct its operations within a safe environment.

5. How long we keep your personal information.

Records' Management facilitates the efficient running of an organisation.

The College's records are important sources of administrative, evidential and historical information. It helps to ensure that the College conducts itself in an orderly, efficient, equitable and accountable manner, it protects the interests of the College its employees, students and stakeholders and can provide continuity in the event of a disaster.
